QUICK PASSAGE OF FARM BILL ASKED

Kefauver Says Stevenson Now Talks Nonsense

Top Dem Candidates
Exchange Barbs As
Primary Polls Loom

MOUNT HOLLY, N. J. (AP)—Sen.
Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) says Ad-
lai Stevenson is talking nonsense
now "in the manner of a man who is desperate."

He answered with harsh words
of his own, a bitter barb tossed
by Stevenson in Florida yesterday that Kefauver was threatening party unity.

Kefauver, who is on a five-day
tour of the state in a bid for New Jersey's 26 Democratic Convention
votes, called a special press conference to get into the long distance verbal joust with Stevenson.
"Stevenson is not talking sense,
he is simply talking nonsense,"

Kefauver said, and added "I'm sorry that Mr. Stevenson feels he now must engage in mudslinging.
He's not in character in doing it."

Kefauver responded calmly, but with a touch of bitterness, to Stevenson's further charge that Kefauver had been absent from the Senate when votes were taken on a number of vital measures.

AS FOR HIMSELF Kefauver
said, "I intend to conduct my campaign as I have in the past and I'm not going to engage in personalities and mudslinging. We'll turn the other cheek. I think people want the issues discussed and I intend to discuss them."

"I haven't been absent on any important votes I remember."

Meanwhile, Stevenson, unopposed in the Illinois Democratic presidential preference primary Tuesday, mapped a busy weekend of campaigning for a big vote in his home state.

Much meaning could be read
into this year's results of the primary, which is regarded as a popularity poll.

In the 1952 primary, Kefauver,
the only name on the Democratic ballot, received 526,301 votes. Stevenson, who was a candidate for governor and was not listed as a presidential choice, received 54-336 write-in votes.

Supporters of Kefauver, who scored an upset victory over Stevenson in Minnesota last month in their first head-on contest, have urged write-in votes. And so has a group of persons backing Ohio
Gov. Frank J. Lausche who yesterday declared he "doesn't have a chance" of getting the party nomination.

On the Republican ballot, President Eisenhower has nominal competition from two opponents, Sen.
William F. Knowland of California
and Lar Daly of Chicago.

Ohio Pig Price Shows Climb In Last Week

COLUMBUS (AP)—A higher trend
in prices for both butcher hogs
and sows prevailed again this week in 70 central and western Ohio markets, the Ohio Department of Agriculture reported.

Average price received this week by farmers for live hogs at the 70 markets was $15.30, highest price received since early October of 1955. This is an increase of 65 cents per hundredweight for No. 2
butcher hogs over last week's average price of $14.65.

Sow prices also moved 50 to 75
cents higher for the week.

Receipts at the interior Ohio
markets reporting to the bureau
of markets numbered 40,143 this week compared with 48,316 last week, a decrease of 15 per cent.

The bureau said market interests are of the opinion that the receipts in Ohio will probably remain fairly low for the next few weeks, and then increase to some extent early in May. They also believe prices will remain fairly constant until this heavier rain of hogs
reaches the market.

Kite Snags Lines, Dims City Power

OSWEGO, N. Y. (AP)—A kite, entangled in main power lines, interrupted all electric power here,
which apparently escaped from a child, hit a 33,000-volt line and the contact tripped a switch, a spokesman for the Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. said. Lights stayed dim for a half-hour before full power was restored.

then the grille and then a headlight.

Northern Midwest Shivers; Wintry Weather Returns

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Wintry weather returned to
northern Midwest areas today,
with snow, cold and strong winds.
April showers sprinkled areas
from the Middle Mississippi Valley
eastward to the Atlantic Coast. Generally fair weather prevailed in most of the western half of the country.

Near blizzard conditions were reported in the Red River Valley
section of Minnesota - North Dakota. Gusts winds whipped up heavy snow falls, causing much drifting. Some roads were blocked and plows were forced to quit because of poor visibility. Falls measured up to seven inches.

Fresh falls of snow in Duluth,
Minn., were more than six inches,
making a total of 21 inches on the ground. The snow fall was general
across northern Minnesota.

The snow, accompanied by strong winds, was headed for sections of Wisconsin and Michigan.

Detroit Family Urged Refuse To Move Out

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit family
was urged today to "refuse to yield to violence" and remain in the northwest area home into which
it moved this week.

The Rev. John E. Coogan, chairman of the Detroit Commission
on Community Relations, said the family of John W. Rouse "owes it to the community to pioneer"
against what he termed "foot-
loose hoodlums."

Rouse, 70, and his family agreed
Thursday night, after a near race
riot, to sell their home and move elsewhere. A rumor that Rouse was a Negro set off a demonstration in which stones were hurled through two windows of the new home by some of 300 persons who gathered near the house.

Father Coogan, a Roman Catholic priest said last night "they should refuse the money" and termed stoning of the home "barbarity" that "should be bitterly resented by every responsible citizen
of Detroit."

Rouse told newsmen he would not stay, adding:
"I don't want to try being a pioneer around people who start
trouble without even seeing me
and my wife."

Rouse, a retired private policeman, said he was of Cherokee Indian ancestry and his wife of Scotch-Irish and French-Canadian.

Alger Hiss Booked For Princeton Talk

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Alger
Hiss, onetime State Department
official convicted of perjury in connection with a Communist spy
probe, has been invited to speak
at Princeton University April 26.

He will be the guest of the American Whit-Closophic Society, the nation's oldest campus debating society.

Hiss' topic is scheduled as "The Meaning of Geneva."

Bruce B. Brinkgold, president of the society, said that "While the society does not approve of Hiss'
record, we feel that his career is still an issue and that his views
would be of general interest to the faculty and student body."

U. N. Aide Starts On Peace Mission

Hamarskjold Plans London Talks
Before Flying Into Middle East

LONDON (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold was flying here today on his mission
to seek a way to peace in a Middle East flaming with Arab-Israeli strife.

He planned to confer with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd during a two-hour stopover. Then he goes to Rome for preliminary talks with U. N.
truce observers from the troubled Palestine area.

Hammarskjold expects to spend a month in the Middle East, surveying the tensions and studying how to abate them. The United States proposed the mission and
the U. N. Security Council gave him the mandate.

Hammarskjold's departure from
New York last night was delayed
while a police bomb squad made
what was described as "a routine
check" of the airliner.

New troubles faced Hammarskj-
old as his mission started. Fresh outbreaks along the Egyptian-held Gaza strip area forced the U. N. truce supervisor, Canadian
Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, to postpone until Sunday his meeting
with Hammarskjold in Rome.

A U. N. REPORT said fire along the Gaza strip Thursday killed 55
Egyptians and wounded 102. It said six Israeli civilians and two soldiers were wounded that day.

The Egyptians put their death toll in Thursday's action at 63 soldiers and civilians, including nine
women patients in a hospital.

Israeli spokesmen said four Israeli soldiers were killed in clashes earlier this week.

A U. N. cease-fire appeal halted Thursday's bloody clash. A fresh artillery duel broke out yesterday
but subsided quickly.

In Washington, the State Department said the new outbreak
"highlights the urgency and need
of the Hammarskjold mission to Palestine."

Hammarskjold said before leaving that the latest Gaza
clashes "if anything, added other reasons for this mission and increase the significance of this decision of the Security Council."

Hammarskjold's first two stops
in the Middle East are expected to be Beirut, Lebanon, and Cairo.

April's 'Showers' Off To Big Start

April's "showers," as far as the Circleville district is concerned,
have been off to a soaking start
that is well above normal.

Local precipitation so far this month totals 1.53 inch, including
.21 of rain reported for a 24-hour
interval ending this morning. The April accumulation thus far is more than one inch ahead of last year's rainfall at this time.

And it is also approximately one-fourth inch ahead of normal
for the district as of this date.

The Scioto River at Circleville
today was at 6.83 feet.

$400 to the account of prosecutor
Rodney S. Bryson and walked out with the change.

DiSalle Predicts Farm Protest Vote

Michael V. DiSalle, seeking the Ohio Democratic gubernatorial nomination in the May 8 primary,
predicted here Friday that American farmers are going to rebel
with votes against "a Republican policy of trickle-down prosperity."

DiSalle spoke briefly at a gathering of local party leaders and candidates in the Pickaway County
common pleas courtroom.

He was introduced to the local party heads and candidates by Ed
Wallace, Pickaway county state representative.

Deep resentment against policies of the national GOP administration has been building
up for a long time, DiSalle told
the group. "All the farmer wants
is to keep pace with the prosperity the Republican administration has been talking about,"
he said.

DiSalle expressed confidence
that Ohio Democrats will make a

All Four Active Presidential Candidates Hit By Educator

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dr. Clarence Manion declared yesterday that everyone of the four active candidates for U. S. President is on written record in favor of destroying our national independence by the establishment of some form of regional or world government.

The Indiana educator, at the annual meeting of the Assn. of American Physicians and Surgeons, remarked also that "it is a sad commentary upon the state of American patriotism to note that in the course of their popular campaigns, none of these candidates is ever questioned upon his recorded recommendation that the sovereign independence of this country
should be surrendered."

Manion, former dean of Notre Dame University's College of Law,
later said in referring to "active candidates" he meant President Eisenhower, Adlai Stevenson,
Sen. Estes Kefauver and Vice President Nixon.

Asked why he included Nixon, Manion said, "At least I think he aspires to be President, if he aspires to be vice president."

Manion said Eisenhower went on record favoring a form of world
government in his book, "Crusade
in Europe."

Nixon, he said, was co-author of

5 Universities Face Censure From Group

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Five big universities and a medical college faced possible censure today by the American Assn. of University Professors.

Censure of the six institutions
would be for alleged violations of the association's principles of academic freedom and tenure. The action has been recommended by the association's 30-member council (its governing body) and a special committee headed by Bentley Glass of Johns Hopkins University. It will be considered today at the association's convention.

The universities are California,
Ohio State, Oklahoma, Rutgers
and Temple. The sixth school is Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia.

Glass' committee said four of the schools—California, Ohio State, Oklahoma and Temple—have made progress toward acceptance of the association's principles since
the cases against them arose.

All of the cases involved the firing or suspension of a faculty member.

Delegates yesterday voted censure for St. Louis University and North Dakota Agricultural College. The action was recommended by a committee headed by Russell N. Sullivan of the University of Illinois.

Ralph F. Fuchs, general secretary of the association, described the effect of censure as "purely moral." But he said some teachers might be unwilling to accept
posts at censured schools.

3 GI Fliers Die As C124 Crashes

TRAVIS, Calif. (AP)—One of the Air Force's giant C124 Globemast-ers, taking off on a routine check flight, crashed and burned here
yesterday, killing three of its crew
and injuring four others, one critically.

Only the seven men were aboard
the big double-decked plane, which had been used as a cargo transport for the 1501st Wing of the Military Air Transport Service.

Officers at the base said it was the first fatal accident of 180,000
flying hours for the MATS.

Ike, Benson Studying New Compromise

First Test Scheduled
Wednesday As House
Casts Initial Ballot

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic
spokesmen called today for quick
passage of the completed compromise farm bill while President Eisenhower took a new look at its provisions.

Eisenhower called Secretary
of Agriculture Benson to the White House for a conference
which could chart a new administration effort to get a bill more
to their liking.

Such an effort, however, would require a new battle in the Senate
or the House to force revision of the bill on which a Senate-House
conference committee completed
action late yesterday.

A House vote, probably on Wednesday, will provide the first test.
Both Sen. Ellender (D-La.) and
Rep. Cooley (D-NC), chairmen of the two houses' agriculture committees, predicted quick approval
in Congress. They put it up to Eisenhower on a take-it-or-leave-
it basis. Ellender said Eisenhower
"takes it or there is no farm bill"
this session.

BUT COOLEY said he was "a little bit apprehensive" that House Republicans may try to force
some changes before the measure
goes to Eisenhower.

The bill would establish the soil
bank Eisenhower asked to boost farmers' income through federal payments while at the same time
avoiding overproduction. But it also would require higher, rigid
price supports and other provision which both Eisenhower and Benson have fought.

Two of the five Senate conferees
refused to sign the agreement.
Sens. Aiken (R-Vt.) and Holland
(D-Fla.) said they expect a presidential veto of the omnibus bill
unless the House or Senate orders
its revision.

They contend it is too late for the administration soil bank plan
to do much good this year. The plan calls for special benefit payments to farmers who under-
plant their allotments of cotton,
wheat, corn and other crops now
in heavy surpluses.

Ellender disputed this.
He said Agriculture Department officials already have preliminary plans and instructions ready for
state and county farmer committees who would administer the soil bank.

Ellender noted that the bill authorized $750 million each for this and the next three years under the acreage reserve and another $450
million for 10 to 15 years under the conservation reserve phase of the soil bank.

The acreage reserve plan would apply to land actually used for production of surplus crops. The conservation reserve is a longer-
range program for planting trees
and grass.

Only minor additional revisions
were made in the compromise before the five House conferees and three senators signed it.

'Pigeon-Hole' Auto Parking Building Leans

CLEVELAND (AP)—Engineers and construction workers scrambled today in an effort to prevent an eight-tier, 640,000 pound "pigeonhole" parking building from toppling over.

The steel and concrete structure began listing shortly after midnight and by mid-morning was listing about 20 degrees. Its third tier was about a half foot away
from Dittman's Store and the top tier was six feet over the two-story
Dittman building.

Cables attached to phone poles
and three winch trucks prevented
further leaning.

Police routed traffic around the area and shooed away hundreds
of spectators who flocked around
in anticipation.

The building was the first "pigeon-hole" parking structure under construction in Cleveland.

The building is one of two under construction at the site at an estimated completion cost of $216,000.
At its present stage, the project
is valued at about $100,000.

In the construction, the steel-reinforced concrete slab floors are poured on the ground and then
hoisted into their positions on ten, 80-foot steel columns.

Upon completion, mobile hydraulic elevators between the two buildings will enable them to park 216 cars.

Malenkov Flies Off In New Jet Plane

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet Union's Georgi Malenkov flew off for home
in style today in Russia's sleek TU104 jet airliner after a 23-day
handshaking tour of Britain.

Just before the big airliner roared away, Malenkov invited newsmen
inside to take a look.

Looking pleased with himself,
Malenkov was in the same affable mood he demonstrated all during his tour through England and Scotland as an advance man for the coming visit to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Reporters found the airliner had
one main cabin and four state-
rooms, all furnished much more elaborately than those seen in previous Russian planes.

"CLOSE UP OF KNOCK-KNEED FLY"

Scientists say a fly can walk on the ceiling because it has suction
cups on its feet. I say "Phooey!"
to that theory. Flies are able to walk on the ceiling because their feet
are always all covered with butter

other sticky stuff you've been chasing them off all day. My colleague, Dr. Schwine, agrees with me and to prove it he spent ten

across the living room ceiling.

Matter of fact, he's still stuck

Gubernatorial Pledges Get Close Study

Working Partnership With Legislature Given Stress In Campaigns

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Pledges of a working partnership with the Legislature feature election campaigns of leading candidates for governor in both parties.

Prominence of such promises serves to point up frictions between the executive and legislative branches of government in recent years, some politicians claim. Aroused by the asserted failure of Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche to act, Republican-controlled legislatures made far-reaching changes in state government.

Various law-makers said the changes encroached on administrative functions; others asserted the legislators merely tried to fill a void.

Whatever the claims, Lausche usually managed to get much of his programs through the Legislature during five terms as governor. He passed up a possible sixth term to run unopposed for the U. S. senatorial nomination in the May 8 primary elections.

A rising tide of complaints about Ohio roads led the Legislature in 1933 to create a highway construction council to superintend them. The council received broad authority over construction financed by a voter-sanctioned 500 million dollar bond issue but the Legislature tied final approval strings to its operations.

Two years later the Legislature made even more sweeping changes in state government.

One action split the sprawling welfare department into two segments. Care of state hospital patients and prisoners was entrusted to a new department of mental health and correction. The welfare department was left with social services.

A division of capital planning and improvement was created within the finance department. The division was entrusted with an accelerated program of institutional building. A separate board was set up to pass on plans of the division.

Members of the Legislature also formed a "watchdog committee" to see that funds were spent for approved projects instead of remaining idle or being diverted to other purposes.

Acting to speed the processing of claims by injured workers, the Legislature created a workmen's compensation bureau and turned the state industrial commission into a reviewing board.

Politicians said major gubernatorial candidates apparently recognized the trend and sought to preserve the executive powers they hoped to assume through election by promising full cooperation with the lawmakers.

Man Owes His Life To His False Teeth

MIDDLETOWN (P)—Robert Surface, 28, of nearby Franklin in Warren County probably owes his life to his false teeth.

He used them to dig his way clear after being pinned beneath a 1,500 pound tractor Thursday.

In Middletown Hospital with broken facial bones and bruises, he was in fair condition.

Surface was unloading the tractor from a truck when it overturned. His head and shoulders were caught under it. It took him three hours to dig out.

'Mrs. America' Contest Is Started; Mrs. Don Miller Wins Local Title

Mrs. Don Miller of Circleville Route 1 has been selected "Mrs. Circleville" in the first round of contests to pick this year's "Mrs. America", competition sponsored in this region by the Ohio Fuel Gas Company.

Results of the preliminary event were announced by Harry Metter, local manager for the company.

Mrs. Miller is the mother of two children. Her husband is a farmer. As "Mrs. Circleville", she will represent this city in the district contest, to be held at Athens next week. Her prize is a set of aluminum ware.

At Athens, Mrs. Miller will compete with winners from nearby communities, with a chance to gain a spot in the state and national finals. Winners of the district finals will each receive an automatic gas range. The state

8 In Defiance Dope Probe Bound Over To Grand Jury

DEFIANCE, Ohio (P)—Eight Defiance area men, charged variously with selling and possessing marijuana cigarettes and heroin, were bound over to the grand jury this morning.

Justice of the Peace G. J. P. Louys set bond for each at $5,000. The next session of the Defiance County grand jury will convene April 1.

Affidavits against the men were signed by Sheriff John K. Bridenbaugh, following a roundup Thursday night.

The arrests were made by sheriff's deputies and Defiance city police, but a large share of the credit was given a Franklin County deputy sheriff who spent a month in Defiance working as an undercover man on the case.

The deputy, Don Spafford, said

Burglary Ring Suspects Held In Columbus

The question of "Who Killed Cock Robin?" will have to take a back seat now to the query of "Who picked up two men in Circleville Friday afternoon?" in connection with an alleged four-county burglary ring.

Circleville Police Chief Elmer Merriman said none of his men was involved. Sheriff Charles H. Radcliff said none of his men knew anything about it. Even the State Patrol here is in the dark about it. The whole thing was getting downright mysterious.

Anyhow, someone picked up two suspects here, according to a Columbus newspaper, and returned them to Columbus to join five other men and two 17-year old girls in custody. Two more young men are also being sought, according to the story. It goes like this: The roundup began unexpectedly early Friday when a Franklin County deputy sheriff stopped a car "on suspicion." Stories told by the occupants appeared inconsistent, and the deputy took them in for further questioning.

A routine check of police records revealed that the four men and one girl being held all had been arrested on previous occasions, with some of the men having served time at Lancaster Boys Industrial School.

A fifth man and another girl were brought in, plus the pair allegedly picked up in Circleville. They are all being held in connection with burglaries and robberies in Franklin, Fairfield, Licking and Pickaway Counties.

All those held gave Lancaster addresses. All are in their teens or early twenties, with the exception of a man who gave his age as 38.

'Big Top' Opens Despite Picketing

NEW YORK (P)—Picketing by two unions has resumed around circus headquarters at Madison Square Garden, but the show went on as scheduled last night.

Some 8,000 persons attended the performance of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus despite picket lines of the American Guild of Variety Artists and the Brotherhood of Teamsters.

The unions hope that other unions will respect their lines and cut off delivery of supplies.

The circus contended the unions wanted to picket to compel management to sign contracts forcing circus employees to join the unions.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

MRS. MYRTLE GARRISON

Mrs. Myrtle Garrison, around 75, died at 10:30 p. m. Friday in Alum Crest Rest Home in Columbus.

She was born in Pickaway County, the daughter of William and Lucinda Bond Justus. Mrs. Garrison was the widow of Charles E. Garrison who died in 1945.

The deceased is survived by: a daughter, Mrs. Thelma Bower of Detroit, Mich.; two brothers, Wesley Justus of Circleville and John Justus of Columbus; and four sisters, Mrs. Effie Fausnaugh, Mrs. Gertrude Johnson, Mrs. Gladys Geygan, and Mrs. Blanche Angel, all of Columbus.

Funeral arrangements, which are in charge of the Hill Funeral Home of Williamsport, are incomplete.

Famed Doctor Dies In Crash On Route 665

Dr. C. R. Smith, 84, of Harrisburg, one of the oldest practicing physicians in Ohio who began his career in Pickaway County, was killed in a head-on collision Friday afternoon.

The crash took place on Route 665, just west of the Franklin County line in Madison County, at the top of a hill. Dr. Smith's westbound car collided with one driven by Gilbert Ames, 38, of London Route 4, who is in Mt. Carmel Hospital in Columbus suffering from numerous injuries.

Dr. Smith, who graduated from Starling Medical College in 1894, began his practice at Darbyville. Two years later, he moved to Harrisburg, where he continued his practice for the next 60 years.

His only deviation from a normal practice routine was that he did not make night house calls. At the time of the crash, Dr. Smith was reportedly headed for London to check farm equipment.

SURVIVORS include: a daughter, Mrs. Ralph Huffman; a brother, Harry Smith; and two granddaughters, all of Harrisburg. Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. at the Harrisburg residence. Friends may call there at any time. Burial will be in Mt. Sterling Cemetery by direction of the Norris Funeral Home of Grove City.

Acid-Thrower Seen As Giving Slip To Cop

NEW YORK (P)—A hoodlum who flung acid into the eyes of labor reporter Victor Riesel may have slipped in and out of a policeman's grasp shortly after the attack.

An unidentified patrolman reported yesterday that he halted a young man running from the scene of the assault. The man said he was fleeing from two bandits who tried to hold him up.

The patrolman, unaware of the attack on Riesel, released the young man and hurried off to search for the holdup men. He found no one.

But his description of the young man tallied with that of the slender, black-haired thug who splashed acid in Riesel's face early Thursday.

Riesel, 41, foe of labor racketeering, was reported improved. His eyes remained bandaged and doctors said it would be another week before they could tell whether his sight would be permanently impaired.

Meanwhile, rewards for the apprehension of the sulphuric acid hurler climbed to more than $33,000. One for $1,000 was pledged by Local 138, International Union of Operating Engineers, the same local Riesel attacked in a radio broadcast only hours before the acid assault.

The broadcast included criticism of Joey Fay, William DeKoning and William DeKoning Jr., all convicted of extortion while holding powerful positions in the union.

Cleveland Soldier Sentenced To Pen

BALTIMORE (P)—Lawrence Snyder, 24-year-old Cleveland soldier who had spent seven years in the Army, was sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary yesterday for rape.

Judge Joseph L. Carter convicted Snyder March 12 for the assault of the 37-year-old tavern proprietress last Dec. 4.

Snyder had been celebrating a birthday with several other soldiers in Baltimore taverns the night before the crime, according to testimony at his trial.

Police said he broke into the victim's tavern after it closed, beat and attacked the woman.

Local Observance Cites Founding Of First Presbytery

Sunday is the beginning of the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the founding in Philadelphia, Pa. of the first Presbytery in the history of the advance of Christianity in American life. Twelve or more Presbyterian Churches formed the Presbytery.

The Presbyterian Church of Circleville will join in honoring the occasion.

Each Sunday during April, a special bulletin cover is prepared depicting some phase of Presbyterian activity at the Kingdom of God advanced in the New World. A series of sermons will be presented here under the general theme: "America's 'Presbyterian Heritage'" as follows: April 8, "Devotion"; April 15, "Order"; April 22, "Freedom"; and April 29, "Truth."

On April 29, the elders of the church plan a Church History Day, with special music by the choir. An exhibit will be on display, including important documents, historic records and photographs plus the original building plans of the church, bible, containing family records and other items pertaining to the history of the local Presbyterian Church.

The choir music for this first Sunday after Easter include a soprano solo by Miss Donna Mitchell, "Alleluia", by Mozart. Hymns used will include: the Easter Hymn, "Come Ye Faithful, Faith of Our Fathers", and "Come, Christians, Join to Sing". The congregation will then repeat The Apostles Creed. The Scripture will follow the acts of the Apostles immediately following the Resurrection Morn, Acts 1 and 2.

At the organ, Mrs. Theodore L. Huston will play: "Choral", from "Suite Gothique" by Boelmann; "Melodie Poetique", by Demarest; and "Gloria" from "Mass in E flat".

Trinity Lutherans To Hear Sermon By Student Pastor

At the 8:30 and 10:45 a. m. services Sunday in Trinity Lutheran Church, Student Pastor Ray E. Johnson will present the sermon, "The Way, The Truth, and The Life", taken from John 14:6.

The children's choir will lead the singing at the early service and will sing the anthem, "The Heavens Are Telling". At the late service, the adult choir will lead the congregation in singing "Holy, Holy, Holy", "Thou Art The Way; To Thee Alone" and "Love Divine, All Love Excelling".

Sunday school will follow the early service at 9:30 a. m. Mothers at the 10:45 service are invited to bring their children under three years of age to the nursery in the Parish House.

Junior church will meet in the Service Center at 10:35 a. m., with Mrs. Howard Conley in charge.

Episcopalians Plan To Gather Sunday At Special Service

Beginning at 4 p. m. Sunday, St. Philip's parish family will join in an all-parish family Ingathering Service for the presentation of Lenten sacrificial offerings by both the adult congregation and members of the church school.

During Lent, it is the practice of all Episcopalians to make a sacrifice of some luxury and contribute the amount of money saved thereby to some church-sponsored program as their Lenten sacrificial offering.

This year, adult members of St.

Philip's Church have been using Lenten self-denial folders for the collection of their Lenten offerings, which will be presented Sunday and become a part of the parish fund for the purpose of a new organ.

Members of St. Philip's Church School have been using their Lenten mite boxes together with children of Episcopal churches throughout the nation for the presentation of an offering to be used in the development of the missionary districts of Spokane, Wash., Liberia and North Dakota.

Sunday afternoon, following the Order of Daily Evening Prayer and a brief address by the Rector on the subject of Christian giving, members of the parish family will enter the chancel in procession. They will place their Lenten self-denial folders and Lenten mite boxes on a special receiving basin from which they will be presented during the singing of the doxology by choir and congregation. Members of both the junior and senior choirs will sing at this service.

the church in the duplicate services a 8:15 and 10:45 Sunday morning. Asbury College, in Wilmore, Kentucky, is the Alma Mater of both the Rev. and Mrs. Reed.

The sermon subject will be, "I Believe in the Love Everlasting", which is the last of series of sermons on "The Apostles' Creed". The Scripture lesson will be read from The Gospel According to St. John, the fifth chapter, verses 19 through 29.

Hymns for the services will include "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling", by Charles Wesley, and "Guide me, O Thou Great Jehovah", by William Williams.

Mrs. Ervin Leist will be at the organ in both services.

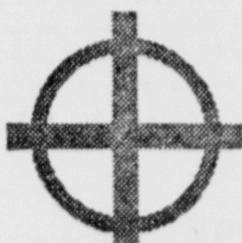

College Quartet To Sing Sunday At Methodist Church

GOING HOME

Does Faith WORK for You?

It takes faith in God to be an Episcopalian. Our beloved Church believes in and teaches the constant presence of God, not just in church on Sunday, but in our everyday lives.

And it goes farther than that, in its continued insistence down through the years on the importance of the frequent celebration of the Holy Communion and frequent reception of this Sacrament by all members of the church. You see, we believe in the REAL presence of the Son of God in the consecrated elements of the Communion.

Yes, it takes faith in God, but we find that faith to be tremendously rewarding as we receive, not two or three or four times a year, but weekly or even more often, the comfort and strength which accompany this communion with God.

Our Lord said, "Do this He said, "This is My body . . . this is My blood We accept His direction, and we accept the fact of His REAL presence realizing that God's ways are beyond our understanding. We don't make lengthy explanations of the mystery of the Holy Communion. Why are they necessary when we have faith in God?

You, too, can find great strength and comfort in the Sacraments of the Episcopal Church. We invite you to learn more about them. Worship with us soon.

You've heard of heredity and environment. You know that the latter usually exercises the stronger influence upon the development of a child.

Then you are face to face with the dilemma of the Church.

The Church can give to every child who comes within its influence the heritage of the Christian faith. It can teach him the truth about God; it can show him the Christian way of life.

But what happens when a child goes home? Will the lesson "stay learned?" Or will it be destroyed by language, attitude and example contrary to all the Church has taught?

It isn't enough to send your child to church school. Become a church-going family! Let Christian truth mold the life of your home and it will mold the life of your child.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Deacons' Institute To Be Attended By City Presbyterians

Sunday afternoon, members of the Board of Deacons of the Circleville Presbyterian Church will attend the Deacons Institute at the Broad Street Presbyterian Church, Columbus, at which a number of workshops will be set up. Each will specialize on a particular phase of the work of the Board of Deacons in the local church.

The institute will begin at 3 p. m. and last through the evening. The deacons of the Presbyterian Church will then meet Tuesday evening to pool the information given at the various workshops, and evaluate the entire program of their work in the local church. That meeting will take place at the home of David Harman, S. Court St.

New Pastor Plans First Sermon For Calvary Church

The Rev. H. Dale Rough, newly appointed pastor of Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church, will deliver his first sermon Sunday in the morning worship service.

The morning service will begin at 9 a. m., under the direction of the pastor and assisted by Dale F. DeLong, Sunday school superintendent. The Rev. Mr. Rough plans to deliver a sermon titled, "The Focus of our Faith".

Mrs. Earl F. Millions will preside at the console of the organ.

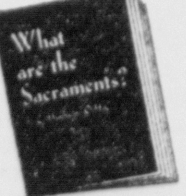

Sunday school class sessions will begin at 10 a. m. Calvary Church has 12 different age group classes for the discussion of the morning's lesson.

PRODUCTIVE CONFERENCE

THERE ARE hopeful trends in the world. One of them was evident at the International Press Institute in Tokyo. Western newspapermen in attendance had expected the institute to be a sounding board for various nationalisms.

A few national grievances were aired, but in the main the Asian countries sought only improved press coverage.

Asian delegates spoke of the shortcomings of their own press services and planned how to make it easier for each country to get the news about other countries. Resolutions were adopted asking Asian governments to reduce cable and other communications charges for press dispatches and to relax visa and currency restrictions which now have the effect of discouraging Asian newspapers from sending correspondents to neighboring countries.

At the close it was generally agreed that Asian self-criticism was the outstanding accomplishment of the conference. This can have a great deal of constructive effect. If news begins to flow freely around the world, this will be a mighty stride toward that acquaintanceship which eliminates suspicions and tensions.

"The more we get together the happier we'll be" isn't always true. But it was true of the Tokyo conference.

DISQUIETING GADGET

MANY PERSONS will develop a feeling of foreboding upon reading the prediction of scientists that electronics will soon provide a gadget to detect a patient's symptoms and feed them into a computer. A medical diagnosis will then be made automatically.

Whether this gadget will be one which no household can be without is not clear. It would certainly boost the do-it-yourself movement and reduce crowds in doctors' waiting rooms. The doctor with the bedside manner would be in no danger of being driven out of business, however. It is difficult to imagine a machine extending sympathy to patients and building up their confidence.

Some effort should be made, though, to keep such devices out of the hands of hypochondriacs. A citizen with fancied ailments would get nothing done except to sit on the gadget and watch the dials. If the diagnosis weren't satisfactorily depressing, he would probably kick it to pieces.

Perhaps it would be better not to let that thing get into lay hands. It might be better to let the doctors have it and to hope that it doesn't blow a fuse and show a man to have an aggravated case of encephalitis when he only has a touch of Spring fever.

VICTORY OVER SECRECY

DECISION of the Kansas Board of Health to throw out a regulation which has been interpreted by the board's attorney as prohibiting release of the names of newborn infants to newspapers was a wise one. The regulation should not have been adopted in the first place, and there is no doubt that had the press not fought it tooth and nail, it would still be in effect.

Perhaps this was not a really enormous invasion of the people's right to know, but it was an invasion. It was a bureaucratic attempt to limit the scope of information the public is rightfully entitled to have.

The Kansas Press Association and many newspapers in the state made an issue of this attempt at censorship and now have won. They are to be commended for their efforts. Alertness to any such attempts to restrict legitimate news gathering will prevent the government from going behind closed doors.

COLDER IN THE PAST

THOSE WHO maintain that Winters formerly were colder than even the recent one now have at least one Weather Bureau on their side. The Des Moines Weather Bureau.

That bureau's Jack Riley says that while the Winter of 1955-56 was the coldest in Iowa in 20 years, during the 1880s and 1890s there were eight Winters that were colder. In the 20 years from 1900 to 1920 there were six. From 1920 to 1940 there were two, and none since.

This adds up to a picture of Winters that have been becoming gradually warmer

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The Canadian Finance Minister, Walter Harris, proposes to tax advertising in Canadian editions of American magazines with the object of protecting the circulation of Canadian-owned magazines which apparently cannot take the competition. If this goes through, Congress will probably retaliate by putting an equalizing and reciprocal tax on Canadian whiskey, cheese, oats and other products that come into this country.

Canadian newspapers say that Mr. Harris' tax is a particularly stupid one. The Toronto "Telegram" puts it succinctly:

"The tax is unnecessary, discriminatory and vicious. It is designed only to make it difficult for the United States publications to produce Canadian editions, and not to raise revenue for the Government. . ."

The "Globe and Mail" of Toronto made the point:

"How can Mr. Harris justify such a tax? Some of these advertisements are American ones, placed in the American edition of the magazine concerned and carried over into the so-called Canadian edition. Some are Canadian ones (for example, tourist advertising) placed in the American edition and directed to its American readers; but, again, carried over into the so-called Canadian edition. And some are specifically Canadian, placed only in the so-called Canadian edition, and directed only to Canadian readers.

"If Mr. Harris is going to tax these magazines for any genuine purpose, he cannot tax the first two types of advertising; he can address himself only to the third. But he said in his Budget Speech that the 20 per cent would be levied on 'all' revenues they received from advertising, and told reporters afterward that 'all' was exactly what he meant. . ."

What Mr. Harris seems to propose is that all American magazines be forced to withdraw from Canada, not permitting even a single copy to be mailed to that country, lest it be called a Canadian edition and taxed. This is vicious anti-Americanism which can only result in vicious anti-Canadianism.

Apparently the magazine aimed at is the "Reader's Digest" which employs 322 Canadians and has a Canadian payroll of more than $1,250,000 and is the only true national magazine in Canada, as it publishes in both French and English which are the two national languages of Canada. "Time" spends about $4,000,000 in Canada. It would not break either of these publications if an unjust tax forced them to withdraw from Canada altogether. Nor would such a withdrawal affect the American economy one way or the other.

What is unfortunate is that many Americans are beginning to feel that our old-time good neighbor with whom we have had so few quarrels and none of them serious or important since we both became nations, is no longer such a good neighbor. Too many incidents are occurring which give the impression that official Canadians believe that the United States is a lemon to be squeezed to the last drop.

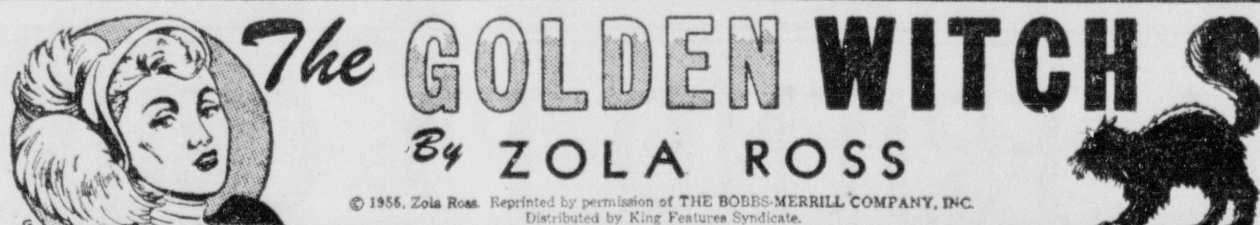

That is clearly apparent in the Canadian cartelized handling of newsprint which is having such a deleterious effect upon the American newspaper industry. It is in this commodity that Canadian policy really hurts and is producing in this country a bad opinion of Canada.

It would be most unfortunate for both countries, but more so for Canada, if Congress were required by any large section of the American electorate to decide on a policy of economic retaliation. Nobody wants that. Nobody desires any quarrel or misunderstanding with Canada, but it could happen.

For instance, it is very difficult to understand why Lester Pearson, Canadian Secretary of State for External Affairs, pushes so hard for the recognition of Red China. Canada has never had any important interests in China nor has Canada's trade with China ever amounted to much. What is the Canadian interest in this? Why does Lester Pearson embarrass the United States by promoting the cause of Red China? Surely, it cannot be for ideological reason. What then is the explanation?

It is reported that in the recent conversations among President Eisenhower, the Canadians and Mexicans, Lester Pearson again raised the question of Red China and that he was told off, because the United States by promoting the cause of Red not even in 1957 as some plan for us to do. Nor do the American people believe that a nation should shoot its way into the United Nations, particularly by shooting Americans as the Chinese Communists did in Korea.

over the years. Or perhaps, as some meteorologists assert, the weather moves in cycles — so many years of progressively warmer weather, followed by another cycle of lower and lower temperatures.

CHAPTER THIRTY-TWO
MEG FOUND it impossible to enter into the carnival spirit of the town. Already long lines were forming on Second Avenue and on Pike Street, down which the parade would pass. There were crowds about the Totem Pole on Yeeler where the parade would start. Meg's uncomfortable depression remained. Was Jason's absence responsible? When he was around, she didn't feel shunted off and unwanted, as she did today. Nathan, as if he sensed her mood, smiled down at her. "Jason'll make it to the docks. But with a ship from Nome just in, you'd know Jason would slice time with a sharp knife."

At the docks, straining with the others to see the ships, Meg caught her breath. Ahead of the transport moved two revenue cutters and a training ship. As they drew nearer, the steamers dropped back on either side of the transport, forming a single line abreast, reaching from shore to shore. The bands struck up "The Star Spangled Banner," went on to "Dixie" and "America." People sang, broke off to weep, lifted their voices again. Meg clung tightly to Tim's arm.

"Fancy show," Jason spoke from behind her.

She faced about, looked at him in surprise. He breathed quickly as if he might have been running; his face was oddly pale. He looked, Meg thought suddenly, as he had when he fought Ryerson on the day she had first seen him. He looked—she tried to fumble toward understanding—this time he bore a look of defeat.

The boats docked. Soldiers streamed down the gangplank, were reclaimed by their families. Everybody cried and laughed and shouted. Meg looked at Jason again. Something was wrong. She knew a sudden need to share it with him. Why, she must love him! Yes, of course she loved him. The minute they were free of this moose she'd tell him so. She leaned toward him.

His expression changed. She had a sudden feeling that he was going to take her into his arms, was going to kiss her. She didn't care! One more embracing couple wouldn't be noticed.

At the very moment when he bent toward her, Charlotte and Barclay Linden rushed up to them. "Have you seen Michael? Have you seen him?" Meg shook her head angrily.

Behind Charlotte, Barclay Linden.

den was heavily pompous, immaculately attired. He looked tired and worried, Meg thought, and wondered maliciously whether banking or his wife caused him the more concern. She glanced again at Charlotte. Excitement splashed from her. If she feels like this about Michael, why on earth did she ever marry Barclay?

"There he is!" Matilda shrieked. "Michael! Michael! Here we are! Yoo-hoo, Michael!"

Heads turned. More voices chimed in with Matilda. "Hiya, Counselor!" "Hooray for Michael!"

Matilda, waving her arms like a windmill, plowed to the fore and Michael swung her off her feet and kissed her on both cheeks. "Good old Matilda!"

He's just the same as he always was, Meg thought. And wasn't sure. He looked stronger, harder maybe. And who was that tanned officer behind him? He looked the way Captain Kidd should have. Why, it was Ryerson! As black as another Spaniard and with a swaggering abandon that reminded her of Kemp, though no men could have been more physically dissimilar.

Charlotte drew in her breath. Meg looked at her as she darted forward. "Michael!"

"Lotty!" Michael seized her and kissed her heartily, but he released her almost at once and held out his hand to Barclay. "Surely kisses are courtesy of the port today, Barclay?"

"You are looking very well, Michael," Barclay spoke formally but Meg saw that his eyes, like Charlotte's, went above and beyond Michael to linger on Ryerson.

"Clyde," Charlotte whispered. Meg could feel the trembling of her body.

"Charlotte," He bent down, kissed her full on the mouth, and lifted his head. There was a casualness about it that revolted Meg. Why, he might have kissed a—hussy that very way!

And then the crowds were breaking up into intimate groups, intent on reaching the streets to see the parade.

Michael finished shaking hands with Jason and laughed. "The fatted calf?"

Jason nodded grimly. "At least a half dozen of them."

Michael sighed. "I thought we might go home first. He grinned at Matilda. "That is, if I have a home?"

Matilda snorted. "Your room's been ready for weeks, Michael. Dark."

Jason drew her behind the others. "I must talk to you, Meg." "Later," She wanted to push trouble from her.

Jason hesitated, then allowed himself to be drawn along with the others. Tim, Matilda and Michael carried the chatter.

"Meg," Jason spoke harshly, "that Nome ship . . ."

"What is it, Jason? Are you in some kind of trouble over the Nome ship?"

"No. Not me. I—I've got to tell you that—"

But he had waited too long. Now they were in sight of the Cox house. It was Tim who stopped short, then broke into a staggering run.

"Heaven be praised!" he yelled. "It's Kemp come back from the grave!"

All strength drained from Meg's body. The sunshine splintered before her eyes. She clutched Jason, clung to him, but her eyes glued themselves to the man standing beside the picket gate.

"Kemp, Kemp, 'tis I'matic I've turned at last!" Tim shouted.

Meg's feet had carried her to the gate. She was aware that Jason had moved away from her, that Michael stood beside her, not touching her, just looking at her with sympathy in his eyes. Her eyes blurred. It took greater will than she had ever imagined to focus her gaze, to bring the features of the man on the other side of the gate into clarity.

He wore the rough clothes, plaid mackinaw, the fur cap riding the back of his head that Meg had seen a dozen, a hundred, miners of the Klondike wear. It couldn't be Kemp. Kemp was dead, buried under tons of snow and ice. Yet—yet the features were Kemp's, the bright hair like Johnny's was Kemp's. He had Kemp's smile, Kemp's grace of movement as he came toward her.

He was standing in front of her now. "Meg, sweetheart. My golden witch!" The voice was Kemp's too, coaxing, intimate, persuasive.

He took her into his arms and kissed her gently and then lifted his head. Meg looked full into his eyes and the strangeness swooped over her once more. Kemp's eyes hadn't been hard and relentless and—sly. This man's were. She felt dizzy. The ground rocked beneath her. She swayed and Kemp's arm went around her. Before blackness enveloped her, she had time to understand dimly that Kemp had returned to her—and had come back a stranger.

If You Have Pet Birds Beware Of Psittacosis

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

PSITTACOSIS is for the birds! Unfortunately, however, humans also may be infected by this disease which is somewhat similar to influenza.

The disease, caused by a virus, is found generally in parakeets, parrots and lovebirds, although a similar infection may also be harbored by canaries, pigeons and even poultry.

Infected Birds

Ordinarily, humans develop psittacosis by inhaling dust from the feathers or cage contents of infected birds. A bite by a bird harboring the virus also may transmit it to humans. And humans themselves can spread it by coughing.

While quarantine regulations have greatly reduced the number of cases, they haven't eliminated the disease.

Symptoms of psittacosis might easily be mistaken for influenza. So, if you've been handling parakeets or other susceptible birds, you'd better mention this to your doctor when you seek treatment for that suspected case of flu.

The incubation period may extend from six to 15 days. After that, onset of the disease may be insidious or abrupt with chills, fever, backache, headache and lack of appetite. Coughing attacks develop rapidly and may be pretty severe.

Temperature also rises quickly and may reach 104 degrees. If no complications develop, the fever will fall gradually after two or three weeks.

Psittacosis means strict isolation of the patient. You don't want the rest of the family infected, too.

Penicillin is a great aid in fighting the disease. It also helps prevent secondary infections. Streptomycin or sulfadiazine may be needed if the bacteria of secondary infections are insensitive to penicillin.

Codine probably may be necessary for controlling severe cough and various sedatives can be used for combating insomnia or restlessness.

Chloromycetin and Aureomycin have also proven effective against the disease. In fact, doctors have injected Aureomycin into parakeets and squabs to drop the psittacosis carrier rate to almost zero in test cases.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
S. A. D.: Do doctors ever do blood-letting?

Answer: Yes, in certain cases of heart failure which are due to high blood pressure, dramatic results may be obtained by removing a pint or so of blood in a few lack of appetite. Coughing at-

Methodist Church WSCS Plans Jeffersonian Dinner

Event Scheduled To Be Held April 16

Announcement was made of the Jeffersonian Banquet when members of the Women's Society of Christian Service gathered in the social room of the First Methodist Church, for a meeting.

The Jeffersonian fete is scheduled to be held at 6:30 p. m., April 16 in the church basement.

The business session was presided over by Mrs. Charles Reid, during which, reports were given by various officers.

A tea towel shower is to be held at each Circle meeting this month in order to replenish the church kitchen supply.

Mrs. Clarence Thorne led the devotion, using as her theme, "The World—Beginning in my Community."

In the memorial service which followed, tribute was paid to three deceased members: Mrs. Anna Plum, Mrs. Bertha Teegardin, and Mrs. Mary Kibler.

Mrs. R. R. Bales spoke of her social contact with these friends who were all charter members of a Sewing Club organized more than 40 years ago.

Mrs. Bales presented the Society with a punch ladle purchased by Mrs. Dwight Steele in memory of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Teegardin.

The program was presented by Mrs. Boyd Stout. Recorded speeches of three women from Uruguay, Japan, and India, respectively, on "World Understanding," were given while their pictures were projected on the screen.

Guests who were introduced were: Mrs. Arthur Johnson, and Mrs. Fred Howell from England, and Mrs. Donald Smallwood from Japan.

Refreshments were served by Circle 3.

The Junior High Youth Fellowship will present a play at the May meeting of the Society.

Jim Cook Gets Coaching Job At Maumee H. S.

Jim Cook of South Bloomfield has been signed to a coaching job at Maumee City High School in the northwestern part of the state. He will assume his post next fall.

Cook attended Ashville High School for two years and spent his final two high school years at Circleville. He starred in three major sports at CHS.

Currently, he is a student at Denison University, where he expects to receive his degree this June.

Prior to Cook's signing a contract with Maumee, it was reported that officials at Walnut Township School had found Cook acceptable and were willing to hire him.

A VACANCY in the coaching staff at Walnut has existed since the middle of basketball season when Paul Thomas dropped his coaching duties. School Superintendent Howard Hosler completed the basketball season as the hard-court coach.

Walnut has another mentor, Vern Feen, who coaches the baseball and football teams at the school.

Landy Blazes 3:58.6 Mile On Wet Track

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Lanky John Landy, world's fastest miler, ran a blazing 3:58.6 in a special mile race at Olympic Park today that missed his world mark by only six-tenths of a second.

A heavy track, soaked by an overnight rain, may have cost the Australian a chance of setting a new world record.

As it was Landy now is the holder of the world's three fastest miles on record. He ran his 3:58 in June, 1954, and only last January did another 3:58.6.

Landy did not appear to exert himself during a 39 first quarter when he trailed Geoff Warren by 4 yards. At the three-quarter mark however, when a time of 3 minutes was announced over the loudspeaker, Landy really let go.

A crowd of 8,000, including vis-

Parochial Teams Form New League In Western Ohio

LIMA (AP)—Formation of an eight-member parochial high school athletic league consisting of teams from six counties was announced here yesterday.

The Rev. Carmen Nardecchia of Lima St. John's was elected president of the new loop. It was named the Wayne Conference.

The conference is composed of these schools:

Lima St. John's, Lima St. Gerard's, Lima St. Rose, Celina Immaculate Conception, Piqua Catholic, Wapakoneta St. Joseph, Sidney Holy Angels and Urbana St. Mary.

The new conference will have competition in basketball only beginning with the 1956-57 season.

Officials said baseball and football may be included in conference competition later.

Phillies Seen In Dire Need Of More Lefthanded Power

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—Unless the Philadelphia Phillies come up with a lefthanded power hitter and a strong southpaw hurler they don't figure to create even a stir in the National League pennant race this year.

Lack of lefthanded strength, either on attack or on the mound, is the Phillies' Achilles heel. Manager Mayo Smith is well aware of it but what's worse, so are the other managers.

Consequently, the Phils must be prepared for a diet of righthanded pitching. Furthermore, the opposing clubs will be stacked with all available lefthanded power to take dead aim at the Phils' righthanded pitchers.

Regarding left handed power, the blunt truth is there just is none. Marv Blaylock, who may share the first base duties with Stan Lopata, a converted catcher, hit only three homers and drove in only 24 in 113 games last year. Rookie Ed Bouchee and John Moskus, the other aspirants for stop with Hamner and third, with Jones. Left and centerfield are ably filled by Ennis and Ashburn. But Smith acknowledges he has problems at second, right field and behind the plate.

If the season were to open Friday, Ted Kazanski, the bonus kid who prepped at Syracuse last year, would be the regular second baseman. But he has a record of futility as a hitter and it won't be much of a surprise if Bobby Morgan, just getting over a hand injury, or Roy Smalley, a valuable utility infielder, takes over there soon.

Jim Greengrass is the favorite for right field but has been playing sparingly upon the advice of the doctors. He underwent treatment for a thickened blood vessel during the winter.

Andy Seminick, no longer a left at 35, currently is the No. 1 catcher.

His score was 290. Giromini's next two games, however, were 197 and 176 for a total 663, far behind the 719 held by leader Tony Spranger of Rego N. Y.

Earlier, Giromini teamed with Vito Calais, also of Syracuse, to win a fourth place tie in doubles with 1277.

County 4-H'ers To Plant Tree At Ohio State Fairgrounds

Ceremony Part Of Conservation Commemoration

Each Ohio County To Care For Tree Planted In Columbus

Rainy weather today may put a damper on the tree planting ceremonies scheduled for the Ohio State Fairgrounds in Columbus, in which Pickaway County is supposed to participate.

A number of Ohio counties had planned to plant trees in connection with Arbor Day in the Plant Ohio program. One tree per county is the limit, with 4-H'ers from that county scheduled to care for the tree.

Pickaway County's representatives were supposed to have dug up a maple tree on the Ray Carpenter farm in Mullenburg Township for replanting in Columbus. A plaque will appear on the tree, noting the county from which it was planted.

April 27 has been designated as Arbor Day in Ohio by Gov. Frank J. Lausche. However, before that date rolls around, numerous tree planting programs will have taken place.

THE MONTH of April is Conservation Month for the state. In commemoration of this, each school in Ohio has the opportunity to receive a free small pine tree for Arbor Day from the Ohio Forestry Association. Applications must be made before April 17.

Students at Pickaway Township School have already started the county's first "school forest". Approximately 500 trees were planted on the school grounds. Also, several weeks ago, 100 Boy Scouts from three local troops planted approximately 500 trees at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

In the past 10 years, about 178,000 trees have been planted in Pickaway County, according to the Ohio Forestry Association.

Gov. Lausche's proclamation embraces the spirit and reasons for Arbor Day. It reads:

"Whereas, the reclamation this Spring of thousands of acres of land by reforesting has contributed greatly toward Ohio's economic well-being by rebuilding soil, diminishing erosion, retarding floods and restoring natural water supplies; providing habitat for wildlife and lending an assurance of a continuous supply of lumber for the future, and

"WHEREAS, this progress toward conservation and restoration of vital natural resources has been made possible through the willfulness of God and cooperation with Him of the citizenry of Ohio,

"Now, therefore, I, Frank J. Lausche, Governor of the state of Ohio, do hereby proclaim April 27 as Arbor Day; a day set aside in commemoration and observance of an outstanding achievement by the citizenry of this great state and a day on which it is appropriate that we renew this significant conservation pledge; I give my pledge as an American to save and faithfully defend from waste, the natural re-

Trade Between Two Chinas Is Old Story In Hong Kong

HONG KONG (AP)—This British crown colony is a clearing house for a small legal trade in non-strategic materials between two enemies — Red China and the Nationalist Chinese on Formosa.

Hong Kong businessmen who boast they will sell to anyone merely shrugged their shoulders at a recent Washington controversy about trade between the Red and Nationalist Chinese. Such trade has been going on here for years.

Both the Chinas ship goods to this commercial city. The goods are stored in warehouses before reshipment. Communist and Nationalist Chinese buyers rub shoulders while purchasing their respective countries' needs — regardless of origin.

Products like camphor, citronella oil and nonstrategic chemicals can be shipped freely between the two Chinas through here. The Hong Kong government has made legal trade in strategic items impossible and is combating smuggling. Occasionally revenue officers of the colony intercept Chinese junks carrying American cars or kerosene for Communist jet planes trying to reach Red China after dark. The penalty for such activity is stiff.

U.S. Undersecretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. touched off the controversy about the trade between Nationalist and Red China. He told a Senate subcommittee March 26 that the Nationalists were shipping millions of dollars worth of goods to the Communists each year.

A few days later Hoover told the investigators he had been wrong. He said the State Department had no evidence of any direct trade between Formosa and the mainland, but that indirect trade in nonstrategic items over which Nationalist authorities have no control takes place through Hong Kong.

The controversy also turned up a U.S. government foreign aid report showing Nationalist China imported $1,300,000 worth of goods from Red China during the first eight months of 1955. Shipments to and from Hong Kong were listed separately. Foreign aid chief John B. Hollister said in a subsequent statement that the Nationalist imports from the Reds "were actually shipped from Hong Kong." He also said he had no evidence of any direct trade between Formosa and the Red mainland.

Dancer's Benefit Yields, $20,000

CLEVELAND (AP)—The benefit fund for Tina Lamont, the night club dancer wounded while deflecting shots a robber aimed at two detectives, had jumped upward by more than $20,000 today.

Tina, whose off-stage name is Mrs. Dorothy Kuchs, will receive $10,000 from the program staged here Thursday.

The 32-year-old Mrs. Kuchs was wounded in the spine last January in a night club. In grappling with a holdup man who was killed by policemen's gunfire, she was drawn into the line of fire. But she spoiled the gunman's aim at the detectives.

Ohioan Returns To Flint Jail

FLINT, Mich. (AP)—Joseph Posey, 21, of Cleveland was back in his Flint jail cell today after a brief escape.

Posey broke jail yesterday by picking the lock on his cell with a piece of wire, then scrambling through a ventilator he tore open, he told police. He said he wanted to get out "to get in touch with my wife in Detroit."

Posey, who was being held on charges of armed robbery in connection with nine holdups in the Flint area, called police and asked them to pick him up.

German Cancer Theory Backed

Illinois Expert Sees Merit In Warburg Idea

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—A Southern Illinois University geneticist says laboratory research here supports a German scientist's theory on the origin of cancer.

Dr. Carl C. Lindegren, who has received several grants for research for the American Cancer Society, said today he is "confident" that Otto Warburg of Berlin has found the "undisputable answer" for the cause of the dread disease.

Warburg is a director of the Max Planck Institute for cell physiology in Berlin. His theory appears in a recent issue of Science Magazine.

According to Lindegren, Warburg states that lack of oxygen impairs the breathing of cells and causes them to become cancerous. A graduate student in Lindegren's laboratory—Seiichi Hino of Japan—confirmed in experiments with yeast cells Warburg's observation that the damage caused to cells by lack of oxygen is irreversible.

Lindegren added there are any number of reasons why the supply of air to cells could be cut off. As examples he cited pressure from ill-fitted dental plates, certain poisons and a constricted flow of blood. There are 26 billion cells in the body and respiratory damage to any of them might result in cancer, Lindegren said.

Warburg's explanation pinpoints the cause of cancer "beyond the shadow of a doubt," Lindegren said. He added, however, that many years often lapse between the discovery of the cause of a disease and the discovery of a cure.

Maple Fair Opens

CHARDON (AP)—About 7,500 attended opening day of Geauga County's 28th annual Maple Festival yesterday. Highlight to today's program in the three-day festival will be a Pioneer Day parade.

Clevelander Gets Sentence In Pen

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sandy Pickens, 24, interrupted his murder trial yesterday and pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the fatal shooting of his estranged wife, Martha, 22, last Nov. 27.

Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin accepted the plea and sentenced Pickens to 1-20 years in the penitentiary.

During his trial, Pickens maintained he shot his wife in self defense. But state witnesses testified he shot her after she rejected his plea to return home.

Fleckner Demands Every Citizen Vote

NEWARK (AP)—Oscar L. Fleckner of Columbus, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, told a Licking County Democratic club here last night:

"Ohio citizens have no right to complain about high taxes, bad roads or other phases of unsatisfactory government if they are not willing to take the time to vote."

Inter-City Buses May Trim Service

COLUMBUS (AP)—The new president of the Ohio Motor Bus Assn. has warned that Ohio rural communities face complete loss of inter-city bus service because of rising costs.

C. F. Raimer of Bedford, the new president elected Thursday at the group's 54th annual met-ing, said many communities will be isolated because of lack of bus service unless the industry can cut losses caused by increased operating costs and mounting state and federal taxes.
